2.2 Some \LaTeX Examples

Use section and subsection commands to organize your document. \LaTeX handles all the formatting and numbering automatically. Use `\autoref` and `\label` commands for cross-references, e.g. subsection 2.2, Equation 1, Figure 1, Table 1. You can still use the more common `\ref`, but this will only generate the (sub)section/table/figure/equation number: 2.

2.3 Figures and Tables

Use the table and tabular commands for basic tables – see Table 1, for example. Table 2 shows a larger example with table notes. You can upload a figure (JPEG, PNG or PDF) using the project menu. To include it in your document, use the `\includegraphics` command as in the code for Figure 1 below. Captions are always justified and start from the left; don't try to change the alignment.

If you prefer, you can place all your image files in a folder. Remember to include the folder path in your `\includegraphics` command, or use '`\graphicspath`' to specify the path to the folder in which all your image files can be found.

² MN, merry noise.

2.4 Citations

LaTeX formats citations and references automatically using the bibliography records in your `.bib` file, which you can edit via the project menu. Use the `\citet` command for a text citation, like `(author?) [1]`, and the `\citetp` command for a citation in parentheses `[2].[3]`

2.5 Mathematics

\LaTeX is great at typesetting mathematics. Let X_1, X_2, \dots, X_n be a sequence of independent and identically distributed random variables with $E[X_i] = \mu$ and $\text{Var}[X_i] = \sigma^2 < \infty$, and let

$$S_n = \frac{X_1 + X_2 + \dots + X_n}{n} = \frac{1}{n} \sum_i^n X_i \quad (1)$$ denote their mean. Then as n approaches infinity, the random variables $\sqrt{n}(S_n - \mu)$ converge in distribution to a normal $N(0, \sigma^2)$.
